

This report focuses on the development impacts of improved access to information and communication technologies. Drawing on examples from countries such as The Gambia, Ghana, Kenya, Nigeria, Tanzania and Uganda, it identifies new opportunities especially for SMEs to develop their businesses and livelihoods, reduce information search and transactions costs, and benefit from improved market efficiency.