

Matthew Martin participated in a retreat of the New Rules board to draft a strategic plan for the next 4 years as New Rules fights to change the way global finance is governed and increase its contribution to just, inclusive and economically sustainable development. The plan will be finalised by June and used as the basis for fundraising for key analytical, advocacy and networking activities during 2012-15.