

Matthew Martin and Professor Ngaire Woods of Oxford University visited the African Development Bank in Tunis to hold discussions with Bank management on the findings of their Client Assessment report on the Bank. The meetings were extremely positive and led to agreement on many concrete steps to pursue the recommendations.