

DFI and Oxfam will jointly launch the new Government Spending Watch (GSW) initiative in Washington DC on 19 April and in London on 16 May. The meetings will launch the draft executive summary of the GSW 2013 report

,

website and database

which aim to galvanise campaigning and advocacy for greater spending on the MDGs, by providing analysis and data on spending in 55 countries, as well as a campaigning and advocacy hub for spending and transparency. More details of the launch and the analysis will appear on this site and on the GSW site which will go live on 19 April.