

The Government of Zambia is looking into introducing legislation which would compel companies to repatriate all export revenues to Zambia. This new initiative is expected to help tackle the move of profit offshore untaxed particularly from the mining sector which has voiced complaints about these prospects. More details here .