

New information is available on the Private Capital Flows pages. The Trends pages have been reorganised, and link to downloads from recent synthesis analysis split into scale and composition, and sources and destinations. The Investment Climate page has been simplified, and recent synthesis analysis may also be downloaded. We expect to add findings from country reports to these pages as they become available.