

Transnational corporations are increasingly optimistic about the international investment environment and their own prospects for FDI this year and beyond, according to UNCTAD's World Investment Prospects Survey 2010-2012